Adding your BMW ID to myASE

Next, click on the Company assigned ID's tab and then the +Add Company-Assigned ID button.

The screenshot displays the myASE user interface. At the top, a navigation bar contains several tabs: 'Overview', 'My Employers', 'Test Results', 'Company-Assigned IDs', 'Orders', and 'Profile'. The 'Company-Assigned IDs' tab is highlighted with a red circle, and a large red arrow points down to it from the title above. Below the navigation bar, a blue header section is titled 'Company-Assigned IDs'. To the right of this header, a green button labeled '+ Add Company-Assigned ID' is circled in red. A red arrow points from the blue header to this button. Below the header, there is explanatory text: 'If you work for a dealership or national chain, you may have an ID number that was assigned to you by your company. ASE uses these ID numbers to share your certification information with the corporate parent.' and 'If you have a company-assigned ID number, click Add Company-Assigned ID. If you have one but don't know it at the moment, don't worry. You can always add it to your profile later.'

Adding your BMW ID to myASE

Here you will need to select BMW from the dropdown list, then enter your S-Gate username into the ID field.

You can repeat the process and add a second company ID if you wish.

Next, you will need to click on the profile tab and ensure that the box is checked to “release my ASE status to others”.

This step is critical, if it is not done the data will not transfer to TMSI.

The screenshot shows the myASE Technician Profile page. A red arrow points to the 'Profile' tab in the navigation bar. Below the navigation bar, the 'Technician Profile' section is visible. A red arrow points to the 'Release my ASE status to others' checkbox, which is checked. Below it, the 'Receive news and information from ASE' checkbox is also checked.

Test Registration & Appointments

If you haven't registered for any tests, click the 'Store' button to get started.

This page has two tabs. The 'Unscheduled Tests' tab lists all tests you have purchased that are not part of a scheduled appointment at a Prometric Test Center. You must make an appointment to take each test by the deadline shown.

Newly purchased tests may take a few minutes before they appear.

Retake policy: If you take a test and do not pass, you must wait 30 full days before you can purchase and schedule the same test again. (The only exception is for BMW tests, which have no waiting period.)

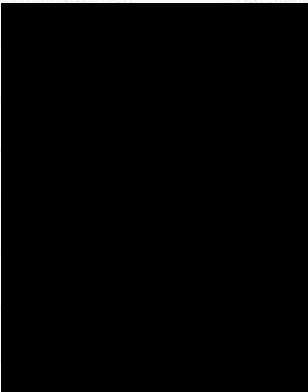

The 'Scheduled Tests' tab lists all of your confirmed appointments. To make an appointment, click the 'Schedule Appointment' button.

You can print a copy of your registrations by clicking the 'Print Ticket' button next to a specific scheduled appointment.
