Spreading the Quintessential Lifestyle

Marc Wilson, Founder and CEO

When you are as driven as Q Sciences' founder and CEO Marc Wilson — former two-time Super Bowl champion with the Oakland Raiders — retirement can feel awkward and cumbersome, like a waste of time. Tee boxes, putting greens, and even the occasional birdie, blend together after a few months.

His unquenchable thirst for success brought him out of retirement and back into the business world, where he had enjoyed over 30 years of successful real estate development. As a retired NFL quarterback, Marc understands the importance of physical and mental health. Since launching Q Sciences in late 2012, Marc has championed the initiative of greater health and wellness with full spectrum hemp products and nutritional supplements, unmatched in the industry.

Fueled by Innovation

Before we will allow any product to represent Q Sciences — be it full spectrum hemp or part of our nutraceutical line — it must pass our screening process. Is it truly quintessential? Is it backed by science? Is it innovative, or is it shallow and unimaginative? If we can answer these questions with complete confidence, then we will begin the product development process.

That's the easy part.

Then, Dr. Stephen Kimberley, M.D., Q Sciences' Chief Science Officer, ensures that the science is proven, that formulas are based on research, and that ingredient quality is unmatched in the industry. All this takes place so you can rest assured that Q Sciences products truly make a difference in your health and well-being.

Dr. Stephen Kimberley, M.D.

Introducing the Q KIDS CLUB!

This is a fun and easy program to help kids learn healthy habits. Our KIDS CLUB mission has three important elements.

We wanted to reward kids for having healthy habits and that's why we created the KIDS CLUB Checklist – children can fill out the four-week checklist as they take their Q KIDS CORE daily. Then, with the help of a parent, submit the completed checklist for prizes!

The Next Q KIDS CLUB Wall of Famer

Q Sciences is looking for the next Q KIDS CLUB superstar artists to create our upcoming Q KIDS CORE cover art! With each reprinting, we will select 10 submitted designs to be featured on one of two flavors: Grape or Fruit Punch. And, of course, kids whose designs are chosen will be featured on our Wall of Fame in the Q KIDS CLUB.
