Trojans are a diverse group in both age and backgrounds. Trojans are engaged in the community. They enjoy the thriving city of Little Rock and learn from top faculty in great programs and facilities. Trojans own their future.

WHY UA LITTLE ROCK?

At the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, what you see is what you get. No one is putting on any airs here. An education from UA Little Rock will have a big, immediate impact on your life. We provide what you need to define and meet your specific academic goals, so you're empowered to build the life of your dreams.

We also believe that no matter where you are, or where you have been, your most impressive achievements lie ahead of you. And even though it's up to you to make it happen, we think it's up to us to help you find the best path.

Here, we surround you with support, immerse you in experiences that shape you, push you to grow, and challenge you to go further. Because every success story begins with someone who dug deep and found out what they could really do.

At UA Little Rock, we make your success probable. You make it possible.

If you're ready for something bigger, we're here to enable and inspire you to take control of your journey. Build your dreams. And own your future.

No matter who you are,
we want you here.

CAPITOL CITY ADVANTAGE

UA LITTLE ROCK IS DEEPLY CONNECTED WITH ARKANSAS'S CAPITOL CITY, GIVING YOU AN ADVANTAGE OVER OTHER INTERNS AND GRADUATES.

STATE CAPITOL OPPORTUNITIES

Recent political science graduate Landon DeKay interned for a congressman. "I looked for interesting stories in the newspaper that could potentially be written into one-minute speeches given on the House floor," he said. DeKay wrote congratulatory notes for constituents and tracked constituent outreach events by the district's counties. His work helped the congressman's staff prepare for the 2020 election and create outreach regarding our state's COVID-19 response.

LITTLE ROCK INTERNSHIPS

Mass communication major Chloe McGehee and mass communication and English double major Remington Miller were both chosen to intern at the Arkansas Newspaper Foundation. They got front-row seats in a professional newsroom to help report on the communities the newspapers serve.

HANDS -ON LEARNING

RESEARCH UNIVERSITY

Whether it's building a better tomato or looking into cancer treatments, students get an opportunity to work alongside faculty and put their knowledge to use in UA Little Rock's state-of-the-art research facilities. Additionally, they are tackling big data for businesses and curating historical collections for the world to see.

Learn more about research at UA Little Rock at ualr.edu/research.

FACULTY RESEARCH

The university's research programs are as diverse as the faculty. Research specialties range from post-traumatic stress disorder and artificial intelligence, to deviant social media use and bone regeneration. The faculty regularly receive national and international recognition for their pioneering research and published works.

Learn more about UA Little Rock's top faculty and research at ualr.edu/facultyexcellence.

SIGNATURE EXPERIENCE AWARDS

UA Little Rock's Signature Experience Awards provide students with funding for a research project, creative activity, or community service project that will contribute significantly to their academic development. Mechanical engineering technology and Spanish double major Alex Alvarez-Barreiro used his award to build microdroids inspired by the "Star Wars" Universe.

"I love 'Star Wars' and have a passion for robotics. So naturally I decided to build 'Star Wars' inspired robots," Alvarez-Barreiro said. "The reason I wanted to do microdroids was because most robots that kids see are big and complicated. I wanted to show that it is possible to build a cool looking robot with very few funds and very simple parts. I used to work at the STEM Education Center, so I have a passion for STEM events."
