Welcome Message

Peace, I'm Master Juice Chef Reesy Daniel, health coach, motivational speaker, award winning entrepreneur and influencer, born in Ohio, moved to North Carolina. I am the founder and CEO of Juiced Up Reesy LLC, the #1 mobile juice bar located in Charlotte, North Carolina. In the year 2020 I suffered from numerous of health issues— obesity, migraines, rheumatoid arthritis, IBS, and depression. I wanted change so I made a commitment to myself to make that change! I started to do lots of research and experiment on myself with juicing. During my personal healing journey I was inspired to help others embrace healthy living as a sustainable lifestyle at an affordable price. Juicing transformed my life. I naturally lost over 60 pounds, and healed health issues I suffered from with my products. I found my passion and now I am an innovative leader who provides invaluable resource for others, results-oriented coaching, and community support to help others turn juicing into an educational epic health transformative experience Juiced Up Reesy offers cold pressed juices that helps with weightloss, detoxing and cleansing the body, energy, mental clarity and so much more. We also offer tonic shots, fruit smoothie bowls, nut mylks and plant based food options. Incorporating Juiced Up Reesy Juices into your daily regimen is like taking the most potent vitamins and minerals. Our juices taste like candy, but their healthy for you and only contain fruit, vegetables and love, recommended and loved by both kids and adults! The colors of our juices immediately grab your attention was they are vibrant. We use the best quality fruit that we hand pick from the local farmers market daily/weekly.

I've helped many of others with my Juices, courses, content and through my healing journey, work, which includes:

Reesy Daniel

I am a wife, mother, master juice chef, award winning entrepreneur and empowerment of the year 2022, Lecturer, and Influencer, my primary goal is helping people. I have over 10+ years of business experience working inside large companies, holding various roles in sales, marketing, communication expert and accounting. I retired the corporate life to pursue my passion for juicing with the mission of helping people heal their mind, body and spirit. I started Juiced Up Reesy LLC in 2020 to help others seeking healthier lifestyles and created a safe space for the community, Juicepreneurs and health enthusiasts to bring people together to learn the healing benefits of juicing.

I had humble beginnings, and though since a young kid I always had a burning desire to succeed. I have overcome the inevitable pitfalls of my adolescent years. I bounced around from foster home to foster home as an infant up until I aged out of the foster system. I experienced homelessness and incarceration. My journey towards becoming a Juicepreneur started out by first healing myself from the diseases that plagued my body which I overcame by fasting and detoxing my mind, body, and spirit with my products. I was determined never to be a product of my environment. I share my story to inspire and empower my audience to encourage them to keep pushing.
