

Philip Marino Jr.

A Name to Watch In Western PA, when sports fans hear the name "Marino," most immediately think of the legendary Pitt Panther and Miami Dolphins hall-of-fame quarterback. Decades after Dan hung up the cleats, Beaver Area High School junior Philip Marino Jr. is working hard to become Pittsburgh's next great Marino.

Standing tall at 6'2" and weighing 180 pounds, Philip is a versatile athlete for the Bobcats. On the football field, he excels at wide receiver and safety, and showcases his speed, agility, and keen game sense as a key contributor on special teams. He also shines as a guard and small forward on the basketball court, where his athleticism and skill make him a formidable presence. His skill set and commitment in both sports make him a pivotal player and an inspiration to his teammates and younger siblings.

Known to his friends and family as "Junior," Philip has a fun-loving spirit and is the ultimate teammate. He puts his faith in God at the center of everything he does which guides him to lift up those around him and keep his teams moving towards their goals. Beyond his athletic prowess, he is a dedicated student with a remarkable 3.92 GPA and plans to major in Engineering.

PHILIP QUOTE

I am very blessed for the opportunity to someday play a college sport and that God would give me the work ethic and talent necessary to compete at the next level. I see myself as a leader when I fit into a team, one that will push myself and my teammates as far as it takes to reach our goals.
