

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT ME

Emily Hogan

REALTOR®

Well known for her strong work ethic, and offering assistance in a timely manner, Emily prioritizes each task with a sense of urgency for all of her clients' needs.

Her niche is centered around a genuine love for home and building design, which began at a young age. Growing up with a Dad as a General Contractor led her to develop an early interest in the design processes for building and renovating homes. In addition to serving as a real estate agent herself, Emily also has several first-hand experiences in buying, renovating and selling previous homes, personally. In turn, she knows the right questions to ask, and the process to help you get your dream property without settling for less. Emily enjoys client interaction and being at the forefront of helping those she serves move to the next chapter in life by finding their new home or selling their existing home. It is truly her favorite part of being a real estate agent.
