The image shows two bouquets of flowers in clear glass vases, placed on a dark wooden table. The bouquet on the left features a mix of white and purple flowers, including what appear to be lilies and smaller blossoms. The bouquet on the right is more densely packed with white and purple flowers, also including lilies. The background is slightly blurred, showing a window with light coming through. Two semi-transparent green text boxes are overlaid on the image: one at the top left and one at the bottom left.
