

Corinn Brewer

All-Around Excellence — No stranger to the spotlight as one of the most decorated amateur athletes ever to come out of the WPIAL, Greensburg Central Catholic-alum Corinn Brewer is the definition of an all-star student athlete, performing at an elite level both athletically and academically.

This fall, Corrin will be taking her talents from Notre Dame University to Lehigh University where she'll look to increase her impressive medal count while pursuing her major in architecture. Whether it's pole vault, shot put, jump, sprints, or distance, Corrin is destined to shine as she fights for a regular spot atop the podiums at the height of college competition.
